Option 2 is the same sign as option 1 with a digital board attached to the top in the amount of $10,084.00; and Option 3 is the same sign as the other 2 options with a higher-grade digital sign on top of it for $23,684.00. The council felt that a digital sign would be nice so that patrons could drive by and see different notices of what was upcoming in town along with important dates and information.
